We Love to doubt

Ready, set, hike! Mike Thalheimer appears to be centering the ball, but Paul Schwab runs interference to make sure Batesville maintains possession.

As Well as to Know

As Batesville enters a new year, a unique attitude prevails among students. Just as Dante stated, "I love to doubt as well as to know," expresses his belief in the unlimited opportunities for learning. Batesvillians are also realizing their many chances for a broad education.

At Batesville there are numerous opportunities for a liberal education that begin to mold an individual's life. In the wide variety of courses, students are encouraged to think and discover for themselves as they question traditional concepts and search for new ideas. But a student's schooling is not just centered around academics; he also participates in challenging extra-curricular activities ranging from creating stage scenery to tutoring others.

As the leaders of a new area in education, Batesvillians, continually doubting and searching, accept the many challenges that Batesville offers.

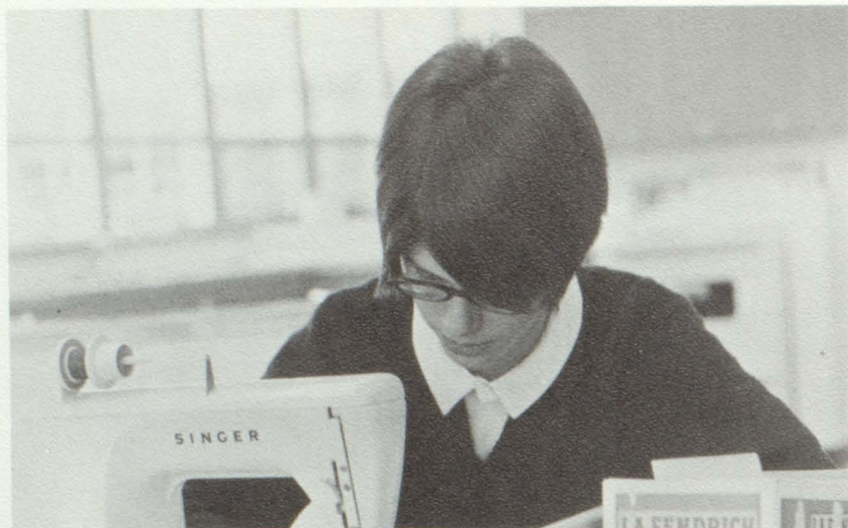

Spanish Teacher Mr. Jerry Brelage points out to his class that the words on the board are Spanish.

In comparison with a busy week-day, the school building stands nearly deserted on an uneventful Saturday.

Library

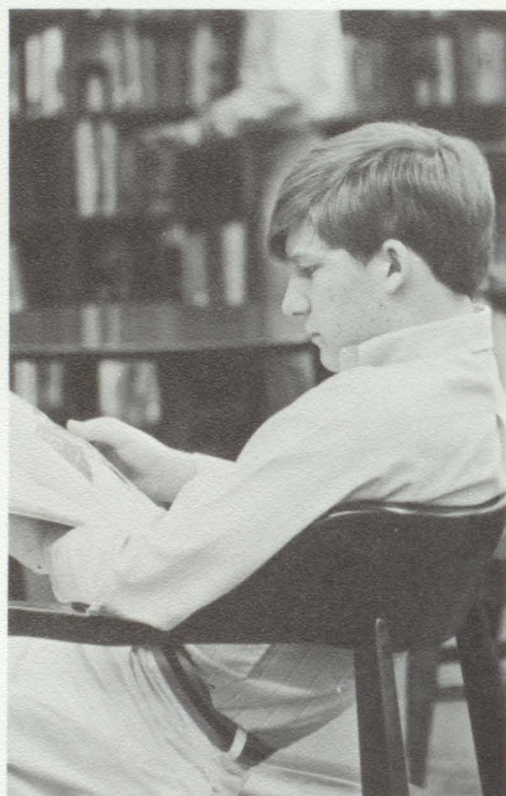

The library is one place that students can escape the hustle and bustle of school and find peace and quiet. Here students can catch up on current events, do last minute homework, or just sit.

It says here Mighty Mouse is not for real!

Do you think this picture is posed?

Dedication of Gym

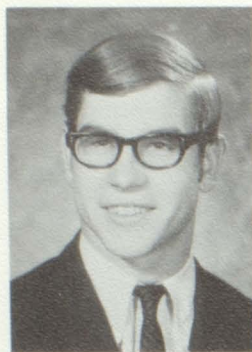

Saturday, November 23 was the opening dedication of the new Batesville High School gym. The guest speaker was Phil Eskew, Commissioner of Indiana Athletic Association. The dedication was completed by a Batesville victory over Sunman.

Seniors Hold Mock Election

Every four years at election time the Senior Civics class, under the direction of Mr. Brokamp, holds a mock National Election for the entire school. This year's election between Humphrey, Nixon, and Wallace proved a landslide for the Republican candidate. NIXON'S THE ONE!!!

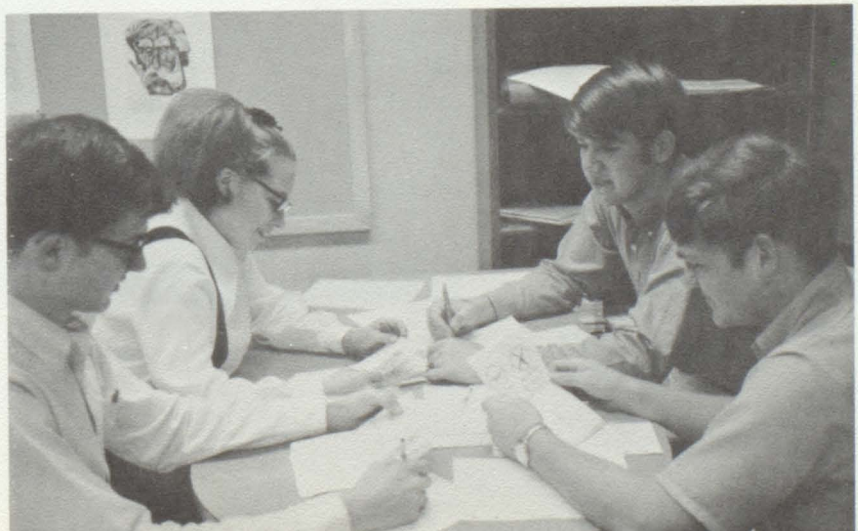

The students file past the registration desk and get their ballots before entering the voting booths.

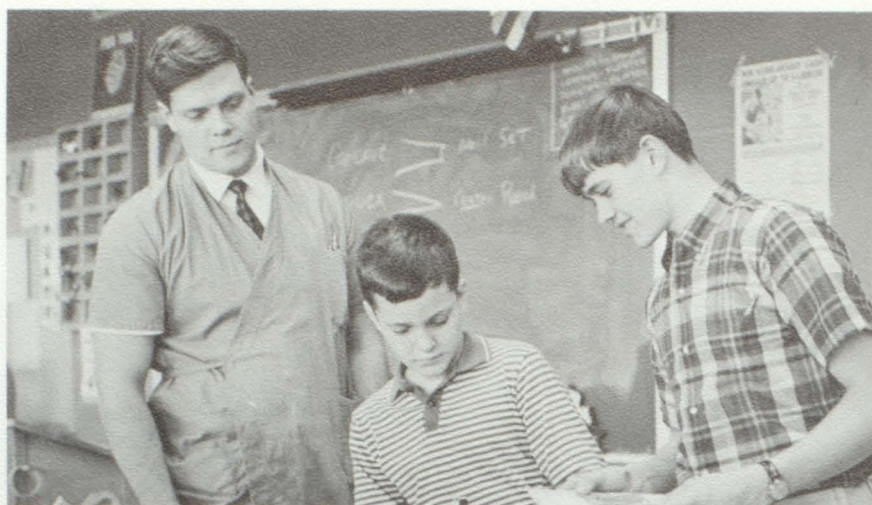

... and the tension mounts as the last votes arrive at the election center.

The 1968 Bulldogs hustled off the field with 3 wins and 7 losses, finishing in a 3-way tie for second place. Bonus points were added when 8 players were named to the all-conference list. The Dogs scored a real safety as they lowered the boom on Lawrenceburg to make a successful conclusion to Homecoming.

X-Country Has 8-1 Season

This was a year to remember for some, especially coach Williams. This year's outstanding team was 8-1 for the season. Next year should also be very promising with the return of many Lettermen.

The remarkable Dierckman will be one of the best men to look for next year. With good school spirit, Dennis and the team could go all the way.

The 1969 Baseball team goes into the season as the E.I.A.C. sectional winner's of 1967-68. Expectations for a sectional and conference crown will be attained by the 1969 squad. The team tangles with tough competition in the form of Seymour and Columbus who are always powerhouses in baseball. This year's team is lead by Seniors Don Schwegman, Tom Dunker, John Decker, and Greg Fields. Returning Lettermen include Dave Bischoff and Steve Moorman.

Meet the Champions

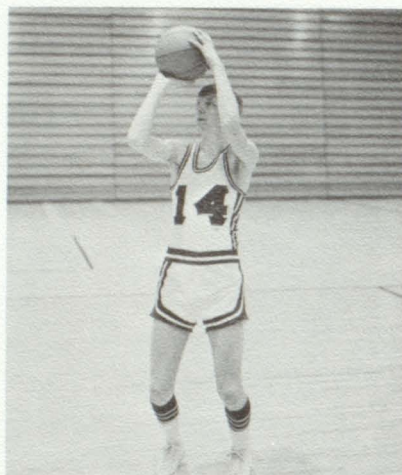

These three seniors were members of the squad that won the E.I.A.C. championship in 1966 and the sectionals in 1967 and 1968. All three have had all-conference honors: Don Schwegman as a pitcher; John Decker as a catcher; and Tom Dunker as an infielder.

The Pep Club, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Flodder, lent moral support to our fighting Bulldogs on the gridiron and the hardwood. The Pep Band, directed by Mr. Spurling, added the needed spirit and enthusiasm for all home basketball games.

Future Farmers

Under the supervision of Mr. Ferringer, the FFA has brought many honors to their local chapter.

This year the Future Nurses worked on the theme of Health Careers. At each meeting a different phase of health occupations was studied: those of the x-ray technician, the school nurse, the dietician, the dental assistant, and the registered nurse. The girls worked in the clinic one hour a day helping the school nurse. They spent one day traveling with the school nurse to the surrounding schools and observed her duties. Two field trips were taken—one to the I.U. Medical Center and one to Purdue's School of Nursing in Indianapolis.

Future Homemakers

The Future Homemakers of America is an organization that enriches the lives of young girls who are interested in the field of home economics. The club sponsors bakesales for moneymaking projects. The two main projects each year are the clothing drive for the needy and the Mother-Daughter Banquet. The club is sponsored by Miss Green.

Student Council

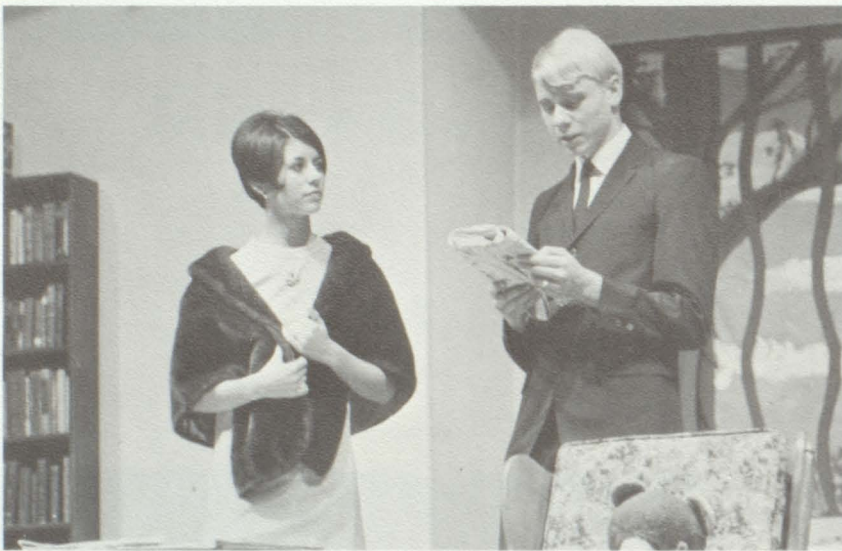

Assuming an important role in the life of Batesville, the Student Council attempted to improve pupils' attitudes as it enriched student-faculty relations. These goals were achieved through various projects, which changed from year to year. Officers of the Student Council are Steve Hammerle, president of the group; Mike Schumacher, vice-president; Janice Heidt, secretary; and Benita Goldsmith, treasurer. Mr. Setear is the sponsor.

National Honor Society

Students who did outstanding work in their various fields of interest were rewarded with membership in National Honor Society. Admittance is determined on the basis of class rank and merit points which are awarded for service, leadership, and character.

The Batesville High School Broadcast is a publication put together by the students for the students. Its aim is to give the student body the news which is most current, to entertain with interesting and amusing feature stories, and to teach through its editorials. The Broadcast will flourish as Batesville High School flourishes.

The Bulldog office comes alive in early October and remains a bustling center of activity for a gallant few until the final deadlines are met. Creating a yearbook is a never-ending job for the editors, staff, and advisor; it is a constant source of wonder, worry, and hard work. The purpose of an annual is to relate a story—a story of activity, of participation, and of learning. But the most important element of the story is an elite group of people who bring the story and the school to life. The students who comprise the Bulldog staff are a small part of this elite group, but an important part. Under the direction of Miss Heim, these students are able to give to you an account of the story in which you play an integral part.

G.A.A.

The purposes of G.A.A. are several. First, there is the active participation in sports, giving girls a chance to play. G.A.A. also promotes sportsmanship and fellowship.

This year, the girls in G.A.A. hope to enter and compete in track events. These competitions give the girls a chance to meet new people and learn new ideas. There are several sports available to girls in G.A.A., such as bowling, volleyball, basketball, and track.

Projectionists

The boys in the Projectionists Club aid the teachers in the use of Audio-Visual machines. The club is sponsored by Mr. Brokamp.

Membership in the Library Club increased this year as the students became interested in the improvement of their school library.

Connie Does Her Thing . . .

The gymnastics room is the scene of much excitement as Connie Smith, a sophomore, shows the class how to do the forward flip. Connie shows much enthusiasm and talent—don't you think??

Mrs. Flodder's gym classes this year have taught SOME of the girls coordination and gracefulness. The others . . . well, she tried!!!

A black and white photograph showing a female gymnast in a dark leotard and white socks performing a forward flip takeoff. She is in a crouched position on a mat, with her arms extended forward. A male coach in a light-colored shirt and shorts is kneeling behind her, assisting with the takeoff. Other students are visible in the background, watching the performance.

The takeoff.

A black and white photograph showing the same female gymnast in mid-air during her forward flip. She is upside down with her legs tucked and arms extended. The male coach is still kneeling behind her, watching her form. Other students are standing around, observing the performance.

The performance continues as the others look on in WONDER.

A black and white photograph showing the female gymnast landing her forward flip. She is in a piked position, with one leg extended forward and the other bent. The male coach is kneeling behind her, supporting her. Other students are standing around, watching the performance.

Could the last phase end in a fall?!?!?
